CHARLES ROBERT SANGER.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

To the Class of Eighty-one:

In the report which I now submit to you, I have followed with few changes the plan of the complete reports of the last two years. The publication has been somewhat delayed in order to complete the Athletic Record and that of the Temporary Members, a number of whom, although frequently urged, did not reply to my circulars. From this record will be gained an idea of what the Triennial Reports will be, and I trust that your answers then will be more prompt and full.

Of the matter contained in the report, the following pages will enable you to judge. I shall only call attention to the remarkable scholarship of the class. The Funds and the Lives are discussed under their respective heads and demand your earnest attention. I have not brought up this year the subject of a Memorial Hall Window Fund, subscribed to by the Class of '80 last year, and now under discussion by the Class of '79, but shall endeavor to get the opinion of the Class this fall, by circular, as to the advisability of the plan.

In the list of Societies the Harvard Union and Legislature have been omitted, owing to the impossibility of getting a complete list of the members of either.

I have decided, subject to your approval, not to call a meeting immediately, in case of the death of a Classmate, but to take appropriate action on his death at the next Commencement meeting.

I desire to thank those of you who have so promptly replied to my numerous requests, and I wish the Class would realize that it is impossible for the Secretary to do anything satisfactorily to them without their co-operation.

I am indebted to W. R. Thayer for the careful preparation of the Boating and Football Records. If any of you can give me information of the temporary members who have not been heard from please do so. Class notices will be published in the Boston Daily Advertiser, and if in any New York paper, the Evening Post.

We shall entertain the graduating Class next Commencement in Holworthy, the room to be announced hereafter.

With the best wishes for success to each of you, I remain

Sincerely your friend and classmate

CHARLES R. SANGER,
Secretary.

MEASUREMENTS OF THE CLASS.

The measurements of the last two Classes, made by Dr. Sargent, are much more accurate than those of the previous Classes, and a comparison, therefore, would be unfair.

FUNDS.

CLASS FUND.

As compared with that of previous classes, our fund is small, and the number of subscribers few. This is to be much regretted, as the heavy expenses this year will use up a large part of the first instalment. Those, therefore, who have not subscribed, and who expect to be present at the future dinners and Commencement meetings of the Class, are requested to forward their subscriptions at once. If any of you feel able to increase your subscriptions, please do so. Those who have not paid the first instalment will please send it at once. The subscriptions are as follows: —

1	subscription of	$300	$300
2	„ „	200	400
11	„ „	100	1,100
9	„ „	75	675

CLASS LIVES.

The Class were given two months in which to write their lives, and were given the choice of writing either a long history or a short sketch containing facts which should be preserved in the records of the class and which can be obtained in no other way. It is the only thing requiring any trouble that the Class have been asked to do. At the end of the time ten lives were handed in. The delinquents were notified every month, and as the result I now have one hundred and sixteen lives out of a class of one hundred and ninety-seven. As I do not consider my work complete without them, I ask as a favor that the rest write their lives and forward them to me by mail. I will gladly send paper and questions to those who have lost them. The book will not be bound until the fall.

CLASS CRADLE.

The money appropriated from the Class Fund towards paying for the Class Cradle will be used either for a cradle or a piece of plate as the parents may prefer. The happy father is requested to inform the Secretary at once.

HERBERT AUSTIN.

After leaving college entered the wholesale metal business with his uncle, with whom he now is.

ALBERT EVERETT AVERY.

Since leaving college has been reading law.

HOSEA STARR BALLOU.

Left college Sophomore year to study for the ministry, and with that intention entered the Divinity School at Tufts' College. Circumstances, however, changed his plans that winter, and early in the spring of 1880 he sailed for Europe. After spending the summer in travelling he entered upon the study of philosophy at Berlin. Writes: "I am content to remain here two years, and then hope to take one semester in Leipzig, one in Heidelberg, and a year in Paris before returning."

GEORGE EDWIN BATCHELDER.

Left college early in Sophomore year and went into the Medical School, returning to college again next year as a Sophomore. At the end of that year he again left, and since has been studying law in Salem with D. B. Kimball.

HARRY HILL BENHAM.

Was commissioned second lieutenant in the 2d Regular Infantry on the 1st of September, 1879, and for eight months was stationed at Davids Island, New York Harbor, engaged in the drilling and preparation of recruits for the service. April 1, 1880, he left for Fort Cœur d'Alène, his present station, arriving there late in May. In July, 1880, he volunteered upon an extensive scouting expedition under Lieut. E. S. Farrow, after hostile Indians in the Salmon River mountains, in Central Idaho, and was engaged upon this arduous and dangerous service until October. Since then he has been mainly on duty with the service of recruits at Vancouver Barracks, Washington Territory.

WILLIAM BINNEY.

Went to New York in January, 1880, and remained six months in the commission house of Lawrence, Taylor, & Co. In October returned to Providence in the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Co., where he remained until March 1, 1881, when he was admitted into the banking house of Wilbour, Jackson, & Co., of Providence.

JOHN CHARLES BOND.

See '80's Report.

*FRANCIS PENNINGTON BROWN.

Was born at Bloomingdale, New York City, July 23, 1860. He was the son of Dr. David Tilden Brown, a well-known physician of New York, and Cornelia (Clapp) Brown. His father was for many years in charge of the Bloomingdale Asylum for the Insane. Frank was prepared for college at the school of Dr. Adolph Callisen, in New York. Here he showed much ability and took high rank in his class. He entered Harvard College in 1877. Leaving college for pecuniary reasons at the end of his Sophomore year, he became engaged in business in New York. His career as a business man began most propitiously. But hardly had six months passed in his new occupation — a time long enough, however, to win for him the implicit confidence and esteem of his employers, — when he was attacked by typhoid fever, and after a short illness, died February 15, 1880. Though possessed of a large and powerful frame, he lacked endurance. Of a rather dreamy nature he was passionately fond of music and poetry. He made friends easily. His frank and open manner, his simplicity, and the remarkable brightness of his conversation drew people to him. There was no service within his power that he would not render a friend ; a severe self-critic, he was ever ready to overlook faults in others.

CHARLES ARTHUR CLARK.

After leaving college in January, 1878, became travelling salesman until July, 1878, for B. S. Hale & Son, Lawrence, manufacturers of fish-lines and insulated wire. In the fall of this year became clerk in an auction and commission house in Lawrence, and remained until the spring of 1879. In the fall of 1879 re-entered the employ of B. S. Hale & Son, remaining until June, 1880, when he left to take the United States Census Enumeration District in Lawrence, which occupation lasted about three weeks. During the rest of the summer he was employed in various surveying expeditions in different parts of the State. Since December, 1880, he has been in the employ of B. S. Hale & Son, who removed to Malden, July 1, 1881. In 1879 he invented the "Telephone Cord," now in extensive use. Since July 1, 1881, has resided in Malden.
